Trade Update

USMCA Implementation

The USMCA implementation process continues to move forward. The most recent development is the USTR’s announcement of a July 1st deadline for the implementation of certain provisions. This decision is expected to have implications for trade relations with Mexico, Canada, and the broader hemispheric economy.

USMCA Implementation Update

The USMCA Implementation Committee, co-chaired by Amb. Lighthizer and Labor Secretary Acosta, was established to oversee the implementation of the trade pact. Following the USTR announcement of a July 1st USMCA implementation deadline, the committee has begun to coordinate actions across relevant government agencies. The committee’s efforts are focused on ensuring a smooth transition for stakeholders affected by the trade pact.

Interagency Labor Committee

The USMCA’s Interagency Labor Committee was established to coordinate efforts across federal agencies related to labor issues under the USMCA. Following the USMCA implementation deadline, the committee will continue to work to address concerns raised by stakeholders and facilitate implementation of the trade pact’s labor provisions.

Product Exclusions

The USTR has announced a product-exclusion process limited to the USMCA’s agricultural sectors. This process will allow for the exclusion of certain products from the application of certain USMCA provisions, subject to certain requirements.

COVID-19 Pandemic Impacts

The coronavirus pandemic has had significant impacts on the global economy, including disruptions to trade and production. The USDA has been working closely with federal agencies and stakeholders to address these challenges, including the availability of food and agricultural products.
